

Von: "michele.bacchereti@libero.it" <michele.bacchereti@libero.it>
Betreff: Re:PhD thesis about RQA
Datum: 21. November 2005 14:13:03 MEZ
An: "marwan" <marwan@agnld.uni-potsdam.de>

Dear Norbert,
I check my thesis and it's true that I haven't cited your thesis in my bibliography.
There is no reason for that it is just my serious forgetfulness.

I'm sorry with you and I hope that this email repair to my fault.
I don't work for the university so I don't see my Professor usually , but if you think I ask to him to make formal excuse to you.

By Michele

(P.S.: what you think about my thesis?)

----- Initial Header -----

| From : "Norbert Marwan" marwan@agnld.uni-potsdam.de
To : michele.bacchereti@libero.it
Cc :
Date : Mon, 21 Nov 2005 12:29:39 +0100 (CET)
Subject : PhD thesis about RQA

Dear Michele,

I have found your interesting PhD thesis on a server of the Universita di Pisa.

You have used a lot of figures and text from my PhD thesis.
Actually this is not a problem, if it is cited. However, you have neither cited this copying of non-own material nor is there any sign to mention it. What is the reason for this? I guess, also in Italy it is necessary to refer to non-own material even in qualifying work as a PhD thesis is. Did your Professor know about this external material?

I would be glad if you would reply to my message.
Norbert Marwan

Dr. Norbert Marwan
nonlinear dynamics group ++49 +331 977-1302 phone university of potsdam ++49 +331 977-1142 fax
14415 potsdam, germany